

We understand that we get our genetics from our parents.

This helps prove Darwin's evolution that good genes are passed on to the offspring