My Brothers and Sisters in Christ,

I greet you on behalf of my fellow officers!

From my earliest years in Brooklyn, New York, The Northeastern Conference Campmeeting represented a time of great excitement for me. Each year, I looked forward to getting away from the city just to spend time with friends. However, as I have grown older, the anticipation for Campmeeting has transitioned to an annual opportunity for fellowship, spiritual revival, and rejuvenation.

Like me, I know many of you have come with the same purpose: reconnecting, refreshing, renewing, and refocusing.

As you entered the campus, you would notice some changes. We ask that you bear with us as we work to upgrade the facilities and make enhancements that will lead to a more satisfactory spiritual and social experience.

We are living at a critical time in earth's history. As Seventh-day Adventists, we have been called to carry forward the Great Gospel Commission, ministering to people's spiritual, physical, and mental needs. Our proclamation is distinct and distinguishing. Therefore, we have no option but to present the Three Angels' Messages. It is in this vein that we selected as our theme: "We Will Go!"

As we look around our world, we can clearly see the fulfillment of signs specified in the scriptures. This realization ought to give our proclamation more earnestness and urgency.

Therefore, as we gather for the two Sabbaths of spiritual convocation, I pray that this year's campmeeting will afford us the marvelous opportunity to reaffirm our commitment to sharing the unique message that God has given the remnant church to share. I pray that God will grant us the vigor and fortitude needed to go back to our communities and share the love of Christ without reservation.

Yours in His service

PASTOR DEBLEAIRE SNELL

Pastor Debleaire Snell is the speaker/director of Breath of Life Ministries as well as the senior pastor of Oakwood University Church. Pastor Snell has served as senior pastor of the three campuses of the First Seventh-day Adventist Church (First Church, Abundant Life, and "The Bridge") in Huntsville, Alabama before being elected speaker/director of Breath of Life. He has conducted several major evangelistic meetings for the church; and throughout his time at First Church, there have been a total of 878 baptisms. In 2020, Snell launched a local television ministry with the Huntsville CBS affiliate.

Before serving in Huntsville, Snell was senior pastor at the Lima Drive Seventh-day Adventist Church in Lexington, Kentucky, from 2006-2010. In two years, Snell and his team conducted three evangelistic series, baptizing more than 100. Snell also served as senior pastor of the Salem Seventh-day Adventist Church in Columbus, Mississippi, and the Lee Memorial Seventh-day Adventist Church in West Point, Mississippi.

Snell has taught at Oakwood University as an adjunct professor since 2010. In addition to starting a devotional column in a local newspaper while in Kentucky, Snell has authored six books. He graduated from Oakwood University in 1999 with a bachelor's degree in theology. In 2001, Snell earned his Master of Divinity from Seventh-day Adventist Theological Seminary at Andrews University in Berrien Springs, Michigan.

LITANY

LEADER: The work of a teacher, in dealing with young minds, is the nicest work ever assumed by men and women. In order to do this work, teachers must understand the way children should go. This embraces not merely having a knowledge of books; it encapsulates everything that is good, virtuous, righteous and holy. It demands the practice of temperance, godliness, brotherly kindness and love to God and to one another. As one of God's noblest professions, Jesus Himself became a model teacher to show the world what God is like and what He requires of its inhabitants. In like manner, God has called you to this sacred trust - to teach children of Him and to prepare them for His kingdom. Do you accept this calling as your lifework and will you train your students in the fear and admonition of the Lord?

TEACHERS: Yes we do!

LEADER: Knowing the deceptions of the time, you should be diligent and work zealously to give your students the education which is consistent with the Word of God. They should be so instructed that they will set their resolution against evil, and determine not to enter into a path where the Holy Spirit does not lead.

TEACHERS: Help us Lord to teach our students the instructions from you and to lead them by example.

LEADER: The Giver expects returns corresponding to the gifts He has given. The humblest gift is not to be despised or left inactive. The little rivulet must not say, "I will not flow along my narrow channel because I am not a mighty river ", nor must a blade of grass refuse to grow because it is not a forest tree. God expects you to motivate the minutest of talents entrusted into your care.

TEACHERS: Help us Lord to discern our gifts, and those of our students and may we use them for your glory.

LEADER: The Lord does not regard the greatness of your labor so much as the fidelity with which it is done. Do you therefore purpose in your heart to be faithful in your service to Him and to your students?

TEACHERS: By God's grace we shall be faithful to our calling, for by so doing shall we receive the crown of life.

LEADER: The future of society will be determined by the youth of today. Satan is making earnest, persevering efforts to corrupt their minds and debase their characters. As consecrated teachers, it is your duty to correct their faults and to point them to the One from whom all help comes.

TEACHERS: Lord, you are our constant help! Help us to rightfully mold the character of our students, for we know that on it hangs their eternal destiny.

LEADER: May the God of all wisdom abide with you and when the work to which you are called is finished, may you and all your students experience the joy of eternal life.

TEACHERS: Lord, we are assured that if our work is pleasing in your sight, you will say to us, "Well done, good and faithful servant; enter thou into the joy of thy Lord."

CONGREGATION: Lord, let it be so, Amen!

Keynote Speaker

DR. GREG BALDEO

Superintendent of Schools for NEC

Dr. Greg Baldeo is an educator, leadership strategist, change leader and pastor. He presently serves the Northeastern Conference as Superintendent of schools. He takes to the position a diverse and expansive experience having an in-depth knowledge in education, change management, organizational effectiveness, strategic planning and leadership.

He has a diverse background spanning several countries and industries. Along with pastoring, he has been an educator for over 15 years as a teacher/administrator in the K-12 schools, and professor for business and communication. He holds degrees in religion, counseling and organizational strategic leadership. His research interests are organizational effectiveness, generational diversity, transformational leadership and strategic planning.

He has served the church as an ordained minister, educator and youth director. He has served in Jamaica, Canada and USA. Dr. Baldeo is a collaborative leader who believes that wisdom is experienced through diverse thoughts and brainstorming.

As a strong proponent of Adventist education, he is passionate about leading excellence through accountability. His teaching philosophy envisions every student as a learner who is capable of developing when all the senses are engaged in a creative and innovative pedagogical approach.

DR. GILLIAN JOSEPH

Candidate for Ministry of Teaching Credential

Dr. Gillian Joseph was born in the twin island Republic of Trinidad and Tobago. She is married to Dr. Ainsworth Joseph, a seasoned minister of the gospel. They are the proud parents of three adult daughters. Dr. Joseph has been an educator for over 25 years and is a firm believer in Seventh-day Adventist Christian Education. She holds a bachelor's degree in Business Management from Andrews University, and a master's degree in Education (with distinction) from Hofstra University. In September 2020, she was conferred the Doctor of Education degree in Special Education from Walden University.

Throughout her career, Dr. Joseph has been employed in the field of education. Most of these years have been in Seventh-day Adventist schools. Her roles have included Principal, Middle School Assistant Principal, Early Childhood Education Director, Middle School Guidance Counselor and Teacher. She has been exposed to many facets of education including team supervision, curriculum development, goal setting, performance tracking, use of student data driven outcomes and program development and compliance. Dr. Joseph is currently the Assistant Superintendent for Early Childhood Education and Student Services at the Northeastern Conference.

Dr. Joseph's goals as a Seventh-day Adventist educator are to:

1. Help students come to know God, and to develop a Christ-centered philosophy of living
2. Create a school climate that is healthy and effective for students, parents, and staff
3. Provide students with academic rigor that leads to excellence

Dr. Joseph's ultimate goals are to be a change agent in the field of education and to make it into the Kingdom and hear from the lips of Jesus "well done good and faithful servant."
