Company info

Hello! My name is Konstantinos and I was born and raised in Kalampaka, having the privilege to admire the gigantic rocks of Meteora every morning, the moment I open my eyes. I used to be a professional basketball player for more than a decade, playing abroad, but, currently, along with my entrepreneurial activity, I work as a basketball coach in my hometown. I love being close to nature, taking part in all sorts of sports activities (nothing can beat cycling, or running under the rocks), as well as travelling around the country with my newly acquired motorcycle. I also enjoy reading (Osho really redefined the way I see the world). I'm also a great fan of cooking and trying new tastes. But, above all, I enjoy spending time with the people I love (my adorable 5-year-old son takes the lead) - the perfect chance to practice empathy -, hanging out with my friends, and travelling (Finland being my favorite destination so far). It was this love for traveling, combined with the deeply-rooted love for my hometown, that, over the last years, led me to become a Booking Host, and I'm more than glad that I've recently hosted thousands of travelers from all over the world in my properties.
